College Students Expecting More from McGuinty on Thursday

TORONTO, ON - With an influx of new earmarked funding for postsecondary education from the federal budget, Ontario's college and college/university students are looking to the McGuinty government to further increase and expand the Reaching Higher plan in its pre-election budget tomorrow, says the College Student Alliance (CSA).

"Ontario's college and college/university students did their part to get increased federal funding for postsecondary education and training," says Matt Jackson, President of the CSA. "Now the province has to do its part to further expand the window of access to all Ontarians."

Students will be available for comments after Minister Greg Sorbara releases the Government's pre-election budget on Thursday.

The College Student Alliance (CSA) is an advocacy and services organization which has been proudly serving Ontario's college and college/university students since 1967. The CSA currently represents 16 colleges and 22 student councils with over 109,000 full-time student members throughout the province.
